You can be better prepared for the unexpected

Oftentimes, the most valuable assets of any business are the key people who contribute most to its success.

As an owner your contributions are difficult to measure, and may be more robust than you might think. It's likely that finding a replacement, if something happens to you, would create a financial challenge that could put the business at risk.

One way to address this risk is Key Person Life insurance. It can be a critical component to your business protection strategy. It's designed to provide the funds necessary to recover financially from the loss of top talent, like you and your key employees. It can also provide liquidity for business succession funding or pay for key employee benefit programs.

How it works

Your business is the owner and beneficiary of a Key Person Life insurance policy on your life. If the unexpected does happen, the business receives funds, generally income tax-free¹, to help overcome the financial challenge of the loss.

Determine the right amount of coverage

Each business is different, so it's important to carefully assess your situation and different protection options. To help you get started:

- 1 | Review the customized scenarios on the next pages to see how much coverage may be appropriate for your situation.
- 2 | Learn about how much the coverage for each scenario costs.
- 3 | Assess the advantages and considerations of this coverage.

¹ If the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code Section 101(j) are not met, death proceeds from employer-owned life insurance contracts may be taxable as ordinary income in excess of cost basis.

Properly funding your business protection plan

Advantages

Immediate funds - Insurance benefits can be used to replace lost revenue and cover expenses to recruit, hire, and train a replacement.

Cost efficiency - Policies can provide attractive benefit amounts relative to premiums paid.

Cash values provide a balance sheet boost - When permanent life insurance is used, any cash value accumulation is carried as an asset on your balance sheet and can be used for other expenses, such as financing a key employee benefit program.

Convenient options to complete the application - You may be able to complete your application either online or by telephone interview to get your key person protection put in place quickly and efficiently.

Considerations

What's right for you - There are several insurance funding and design options. Carefully decide what's best for your unique situation.

Impact on your assets - Understand how policy holdings will affect your capital and liquidity.

Personal Life insurance potential - Key Person insurance policies do not limit personal life insurance available to you, from Principal.

Next steps

- 1 | Identify people who are key to your business.
- 2 | Determine the amount of coverage you need for each of them.
- 3 | Discuss your plans with each key person [and get notice 101(j) signed⁵].
- 4 | Request official illustrations, apply for coverage, and begin underwriting.
- 5 | Once approved, begin the on-boarding process and set-up administration services.

NOTES

⁵ Notice 101(j) is required to be signed by all covered key employees. The notice must inform the employee that the employer, as policy owner and beneficiary, intends to insure the life of the employee. In addition, Section 101(j) requires that the notice provide the maximum face amount for which the employee could be insured at the time the contract is issued. It's important to keep in mind that the employer is responsible to maintain the necessary records which show compliance with the notice and consent requirement. In addition, the employer should document the HCE, HCI or director status of any insured at the time employer-owned life insurance is purchased. Failure to do so may jeopardize the tax-free status of the death benefit.
