

Individual Disability
Income insurance

Have you made it a priority?

If you're like most people, protecting your income in case of an illness or injury isn't a top priority. Have you found yourself making some of these excuses:

“Disabilities happen to other people, not to me.”

Well, no one can predict the future. Fortunately, you can prepare financially for the unexpected.

“I'm covered with disability insurance through my work.”

You're fortunate. But make sure you have enough coverage and that it works for you.

“I already have a back-up plan — my savings account.”

That’s one strategy, but being too sick or hurt to work likely isn’t what you’re saving for. Avoid serious financial consequences and help keep your savings on track if the unexpected happens.

“I’d rather spend my money on other things. Disability insurance just costs too much.”

We get that. It’s not fun to spend money on insurance. But you’ll thank yourself down the road if you need it.

Take the time to make protecting your income a priority. You’ll be glad you did.
